

Well building work is flying now, with all internal walls up. This makes a huge difference and you now get those actual physical dimensions of the building.

The under floor heating pipes are also in and the screed has been laid. The boring machine will be finished in the next few days for our Ground Source Heat pump.

This is really exciting and I'm really pleased to be installing it into our build.

All first fix electrics are complete and the electricians are moving in to do second fix next week.

The build is now at a stage where it changes on a day to day basis and it's very exciting to see the mission to own our own building becoming a reality.

Best regards
